The fact theat there was even occasion for such a discussion has strengthened the belief that Russia will shortly make a move in the direction of the Balkans, thus provoking a war with Austria, in which event alone would there be any cause for special military prep-

Mr. Tupper pointed out that it had been found necessary year by year to take action in the matter of the modus vivendi, as fisherparty was taken to the Caldwell House, where rooms had been reserved, and the Senator retired to make up a little lost sleep. men from United States ports came over and wanted to see what action was going to be taken. It had therefore been found necessary for the Governor in council to authorize the issuing of interim licenses, and on this account the present action was deemed necessary. On the train which brought Senator Hill to the city came the Hill Clubs of Sheffield and Florence, and later in the morning clubs from Anniston, Montgomery Gadsden and Tuscaloosa arrived. There were several hundred in all. The gomery Club alone brought 125 members. It was 10 o'clock, when Sena-Hill rose this morning

Mr. D. D. Bothwell said the Administration had never admitted that the United States had any legal rights to the concessions granted under the modus vivendi. In his opinion it was time to learn what were their rights. While he would deal liberally with the neighboring republic in all commercial matters, he would not cede to it one sovereign right. He asked the House to look at "the Americans dealing with Canada in the Behring Sea matter." There was a sea 4,000 miles in extent, but no question considerable when the committee appointed to the Hill parlors, where he shook bands with a few of the leading citizens of Eirmingham. These pretentions were being pushed and, contrary to ancient usage, Canadian rights were being ignored. On the east coast there was a number of land locked bays, but if these were more than six miles from shore to shore, the United States demanded the right of fishing in their waters between the three mile limits. The government was making great concessions, but would the United States make these concessions as regarding the Behring Sea?

the settlement by arbitration of the question of the jurisdictional rights of the United States in Behring Sea.

The British Minister was requested to call Lord Salisbury's attention to Mr. Wharton's note of the 8th inst., insisting on the necessity of the modus vivendi, with the suggestion that the President would like to have a response as soon as possible in order that he might act understandingly in the matter. The President's desire for speedy action is said to be due to the fact that it is essential that he should know whether Great Britain will cooperate in keeping the sealers out of Behring Sea, as otherwise the execution of that duty falling solely on the United States will necessitate the making of arrangements that can be scarcely effective unless completed at an early day.

The character of the instructions to our naval and revenue vessels destined for duty in Behring Sea this season depend almost altogether on the attitude to be assumed by Great Britain, and as the vessels will have to be in the vicinity of the sea by the ist of May, it will be seen that there is very little time to spare in preparations. In July Williams married Miss Mather, a local belle and went to Australia. He has just been arrested there for murdering his wife and cementing her body beneath a fire-place. The people of Rain Hill on hearing this news remembered that some time before Williams' departure a lady and two children had been seen to visit lady and two children had been seen to visit Williams' villa and had not been observed afterwards. To-day the police searched the villa and found the bodies of a woman and two children cemented beneath' the fire-place in the same manner as the body of Williams' wife is reported to have been found in Australia. The bodies of the children were wrapped in a damask table cloth. It is supposed that these are former victims of Williams. Two more bodies have been found—one is that of a girl of twelve who had been strangled, the other that of a baby a year old with the throat cut. Time and Place Fixed for the Democratic Conventions.

The State Central Committee Finishes Its Work Promptly.

BT. LOUIS, SEDALIA AND JEFFERSON CITY THE PLACES NAMED.

On May 11 the Delegates' Convention Meets at Sedalia, July 6 the Judicial Convention at St. Louis and July 19 the State Nominating Convention at Jefferson City-Basis of Representation Discussed-Other Business Transacted

At 10:30 o'clock this morning the Democratic State Central Committee was called to order in the reading-room of the Laclede Hotel. There was a full attendance present, and the hotel rotunda was filled with State and city politicians interested in the business to be transacted by the committee. The chief purpose for which the meeting of to-day had been called was that of fixing the time and place for the holding of the State and Judicial Nominating Convention, and the place for holding the delegates' convention of May 11, the interest in which has been rapidly developing in inin which has been rapidly developing in in-tensity for some time past. When to-day's meeting opened there were present Chas. C. Maffitt of St. Louis, Jasper N. Burks of Farmington, J. H. Fink of Salisbury, Col. W. H. Phelps of Carthage, B. P. Bailey of Ful-ton, J. T. Dunn of Troy, A. M. Allen of Kan-sas City, John H. Carroll of Unionville, J. W. Thomas of Albany. Thomas Ryan of It. Loc. Thomas of Albany, Thomas Ryan of Jt. Joe,
John D. Tolson of Fayetseville,
Thos. I. Delaney of Springfield, and W. S. Allen of Piedmont. The first business taken up by the committee was the work of fixing the dates of the State and Judicial Conventions, the decision that they Judicial Conventions, the decision that they should be set for separate and distinct dates having been reached on Jan. 27, last.

The discussion over this point occupied the committee's time in executive session for more than an hour. There was some argument favoring a reconsideration of the action of January last, and in favor of fixing action of January last, and in favor of fixing both conventions for the same date and place, but the majority of the committee opposed a reconsideration of this decision and pressed the point of naming the respective dates at this morning's session. This sentiment prevailed, and at 11:30 °Clock a recess of five minutes was taken and the committee announced its settlement of convention dates as follows:

The CONVENTION DATES.

For the Judicial nominating convention, July 6 was selected as the date upon which it will be held.

For the regular Democratic State Conventions

For the Judicial nominating convention, July 6 was selected as the date upon which it will be held.

For the regular Democratic State Convention the date fixed was July 19.

This settlement of the first of the two important questions coming before the convention also practically settled the problem of whether or not the same place would be selected for the holding of the two conventions. The opinion was freely expressed immediately following the announcement of the above action, that the State and Judicial conventions would not both go to one point, and this was apparently confirmed by the further action of the committee and present the claims of their respective cities.

There were only three points striving for the convention to appear at once and present the claims of their respective cities.

There were only three points striving for the honor, viz. Sedaila, Jefferson City and Springfield, and their representatives promptly appeared before the committee to urge the claims of their towns. The campaign in behalf of the latter point was under the leadership of Committeeman "Tom" Delaney, and it is understood that one of the arguments advanced was that the holding of a Democratic Convention there would enhance the chances for the election of a Democratic Convention there would enhance the chances for the election of the same of the committee in faction of the committee meeting well into the afternoon. Before this feature of the committee's work opened, however, there was a brief consideration of the advisability of reconsidering the action of the committee in favor of lowering the basis of representation so as to reduce the number of delegates to the national convention about one-third, and during the five-minute recess this morning it was stated by a committeeman that definite action to that end would probably be taken before the meeting ended.

CANDIDATES FOR STATE OFFICES.

The appointment of delegates to the State dought out to-day the fullest mention of names of candidates for the various states of readida and Judicial Conventions win also be taken up by the committee at its present meeting, and the discussion of this feature of the State Central Committee's work to be completed brought out to-day the fullest mention of names of candidates for the various offices, whose claims will come before the two conventions, that has yet been made. The gubernatorial candidates aiready announced received no addition to their ranks from the discussion, but for the other offices there were plenty of candidates announced as being in the race, who thus far have been working on the quiet. A canvass of State Central Committeemen and State politicians at the Laciede to-day resulted in the following list of candidates being announced as sure to go before the conventions of July 6 and 19 for nomination:

For Judges of the Supreme Court the candidatesimentioned thismorning were Thomas, McFarlane, Gantt, Hall, Burgess, Madill and several more already known to be in the race.

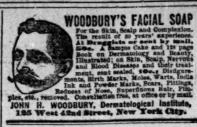

For Judge of the St. Louis Court of Appeals Henry W. Bond of St. Louis was most talken of to-day, with mention, however, of a strong candidate from Southwest Missouri entering the race at an early day.

"TOM" DELANET'S CONGRESSIONAL OUTLOOK.
There was considerable discussion among the State politicians gathered at the Laclede of the changes likely to be brought about by the recent redistricting of the State, and one or two especially significant instances, were brought up. The chief cause of comment was the change in the old Sixth Congressional—John T. Heard's district—which, it has been stated, means the probable retrement of Heard and the selection to Gon.

was the change in the old Sixth Congressional—John T. Heard's district—which it has been stated, means the probable retirement of Heard and the election to Congress of "Tom" Delaney of Springfield, which is the new Sixth Congressional District under the redistricting of the State. Delaney is a member of the State Central Committee, an exceedingly popular young Democrat, and the assertion has already been advanced that he will be a candidate for Congress in the next election, and that his chances for success have been materially enhanced by the redistricting, as now in effect. But against this theory a warm personal friend of Delaney's, who requested that his name be withheld, said to-day:
"I can state positively that Delaney will not enter the race for Congress against Heard. He is not willing just now to give up his splendid law practice. He is only il years old and prefers to wait awhile, and he is paying more attention just at present to securing the Judicial Convention for Springfield, and to electing a Democratic Mayor. Besides that, Heard still has his strongholds of Boone, Howard, Sabine and Pettis Counties in the northern part of the district, and would be hard to beat."

THE CITIES SELECTED.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the committee delegates convention as well as the hominating and judicial.

The result is as follows:
Delegates' Convention, May II, at Sedalia.
Judicial Convention, July 6, at St. Louis.
Regular State Nominating Convention, July 19, at Jefferson City.
The selection of this city as the place for the Judicial Convention was a surprise, it not being thought that any effort was being made in benail of St. Louis. The Springfield crowd were greatly cast down by the failure of that city to secure the convention. After arriving at the above decision the committee took up the consideration of the proposed change in the basis of representation to the Delegates' Convention.

PENNY & GENTLES' OPENING.

A Brilliant Display Witnessed by a Large

Penny & Gentles have but one fault to find with their new location on the corner of St. Charles. Although it is a large building, with five floors, they have not room enough to hold all of the beautiful new good which they have purchased for their im-mense throng of customers. Nor have they room for their patrons, who seem to have doubled in number since the great fire and doubled in number since the great fire and their enforced removal from Broadway and Franklin avenue into their present temporary quarters. That will all, however, be rectified as soon as they can get into their handsome new home at the old stand. Still, by spreading their opening over two days, wednesday and Thursday, they will be able to show to everybody, as handsome, as tasteful a 'stock of millinery and beautiful bonnets as have ever been brought to St. Louis. Greens and purples in every shade will be the pteralling styles this season, while open braid work and open straws and open first form the airy foundations for most of the lovely confections shown by this well known house. One dainty little affair is called the 'Harvest.' It has simply a frame-work of green slik wire, with Tyrolean crown, the whole lightly overlaid with oats in the new Nacre shade surmounted by a rosette of green laquiere moire shaded from green to purple, a bunch of oats springing from the center of the rosette; long ribbon ties.

Another stylish confection is the Duniap walking hat of black Milan straw, very fine, the edge bound with gold braid and drawn over the edge and brim, beneath a band of black welvet; encircling the crown is a band of point d'Ireland lace; a pompon at one side of yellow and white wings and lace, with rosette of black velvet.

A very stylish sixteenth century hat is made of jetted net, with very broad brim and small pointed jet crown trimmed square across the front with grasses shaded from green to brown, with linestone buckles at the back, a bow of the hue ribbon, with Prince of Wales tips falling off the back, a bow of the blue ribbon, with Prince of Wales tips falling off the back, a bow of the blue ribbon, with Prince of Wales tips falling off the back, a bow of the streamer. The salior hats will be worn again, but so fancini in braids that their old friends will hardly recognize them. Russian styles will prevail, and a number of picturesque effects are obtained. Spring flowers are la mode now, later in the season the gorgeous flowers of summer and fruits will be used. All of these things are here, with jets, and gimps, and ribbons which in the hands of the skillful milliners will make as handsome hats as the foreign importations. It is well worth a visit to Penny & Gentles to see this brave display, which does not begin and end in the millinery parlors. In the basement along with the prints, and staple goods, may be found the daintiest line of ginghams, satin-striped, and zephyr that can be found in the city. On the second floor is a large line of sliks and satins, Chinese and Japanese novelties in silks, crepes, silk and wool goods, jets, trimmings and laces of the newest and richest designs, gloves, handkerchiefs, hosiery and notions, together with men's furnishing goods. In the cloak and sult department, Penny & Gentles can show the nobblest styles to be found in the city at prices that will astonish everybody. One must see all of these things to appreciate them. On the fourth floor is an immense stock of household goods of every desciption. One need not go out of this house to supply any want. Every line is full—lace curtains, rugs, portieres, household linen—everything is here.

Also an anonymous letter, upon which these charges were based, the charge having been instigated by the Dean.

After stating, in substance, what I have already detailed, the committee refused my request to remain, and examined their witnesses. Then followed their report to the faculty and my trial upon this charge. The result of this trial can be summed up. Four witnesses appeared on their side. Four witnesses appeared on their side. Three substantiated that the words "friend and colleague" were used and that I had asked for Dr. E.'s substantiation. One knew nothing about it. Three of my witnesses (the only ones called) stated that I had used the words "friend and alumnus," nothing more, noth-asked for Dr. E. Statistics and a knew nothing about it.

Three of my witnesses (the only ones called) stated that I had used the words "Irlend and alumnus," nothing more, nothing else. I further showed that the professors of ophthalmology and dermatology both advertised their specialties in the German papers, contrary to the code of ethics (?), and that the children's professor was an attache and officer of a free dispensary, which scattered cards and placards all over the city, and that his business card contained the name of lodges of which he was the examiner, and an obstetrical calendar on the back of it. Further, I succeeded in securing an admission from the Dean that he was prejudiced agninst me. Lastly, the trial ended by a confes on that three-fourths vote could not be secured to expel me, and then they indefinitely supended me by a vote of 10 to 2, two of the ten being proxies. Remember, no provision in the by-laws for suspension; no three-fourths vote; a large number of the faculty holding position against the express direction of the organic law and unconfirmed by the Board of Trustees, who promptly reversed the action of the faculty. No sooner was the faculty reversed when they presented a memorial asking the board to demand my resignation. This was withtown, "indecent laste" being charged.

Thus emdeth the third lesson:

The next evening aistend the Faculty meetsignal victory, I attended the Faculty meetsignal victory, I attended the Faculty meetsign, which was called to vote upon the applicants. The report of the board was read to me, and I was asked to resign. I refused. Then a bunch of papers was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried by a was made to ask me to resign; it carried tional League began its second day's session at the Hotel Marlborough to day. Among the questions to be discussed is that of allens coming to this country under contract. The League claims that musicians are either professionals or workingmen. If the latter, they should receive the benefit of the Allen Contract Labor law. Those who come here under agreements, they say, are just as much wage-earners as miners or shoemakers.

There are other arguments, they claim, against allen contract musicians, one of which is that, according to the testimony of Von Bulow, D'Albert, Sarasate, Scharwenka, Seidl. Damrosch and others, the instrumental performers of the United States are second to none in any part of the world. The claim is made by the league that the only reason for the importation of foreign bands and orchestras, especially during the summer months, is the desire of certain managers to save money, foreigners being hired for less than half as much as citizens demand.

agers to save money, foreigners being dired for less than half as much as citizens demand.

Another subject that will come up for consideration is that of affiliation with labor organizations. Several members of the National League are earnest in their desire to bring this about, but the men in the great cities, especially where labor organizations are strongest, strenuously oppose such an alliance. As a rule, it is only the poorer musicians (artistically) who are in any degree anxious for angalilance. The real artisticalism that, while nearly every trade is a necessity, music is a luxury which can be dispensed with, and if musicians struck they would alone be losers.

To night a monster serenade will be tendered the delegates at Madison Square Garden, the famous Seventh Regiment and Twenty-second Regiment bands being united for the occasion. They will be conducted by Cappa and Gilmore, who are both members of the local union. Never before have these great musical organizations been united.

A notable feature of the festival from a musical standpoint will be the concert on Thursday night at Carnegie Music Hall. The orchestra will consist of 250 performers, comprising those led by Waiter Painrosch, Anton Seidl and F. Van der Stucken, the Philharmonic Society and others. These three weil known conductors will alternately wield the baton.

MISSOURI BAILWAY BUILDING BURNED Losses Estimated at $50,000 Twenty-one Cars Destroyed.

A portion of the power-house and car sta-bles of the Missouri Railroad Co. on Compton and Laclede avenues was destroyed by fire last night. About 8:30 an alarm was turned in by Private Watchman Lawson Van Bibber of the building. The fire progressed so rapidly that two more alarms were sent in immediately. When were sent in immediately. When the engines arrived the eastern half of the building was all after, so it was abandoned, and all efforts directed toward saving the part not burning. The burnt portion of the building was occupied by the main office, the paint shop, the car shop, repair shop and motor shop. Twelve cars stored on the second floor and nine on the first were completely destroyed. The building, which was two stories high, was valued at $35,000. Only half of it was destroyed, however. The loss on cars is placed at $27,000, making the total nearly $50,000. The origin of the fire; is supposed to have been spontaneous combustion in a lot of greasy waste in the paint shop.

THE COLDWATER BURGLARS.

Description of the Supposed Bank Rob

COLDWATER, Mich., March 16.-It is now given out by President Dennis of the Coldwater National Bank, which was robbed on the night of the 2d inst., that the amount taken by the burglars was $14,000 in currency. $4,000 in gold and $2,000 in silver. The gold coin found on the floor of the vault was scratched, marred and bent and the paper scratched, marred and bent and the paper is probably mangled and scorched, as a result of the explosion of nitro-glycerine used in breaking the safe.

There were also taken from the vault forty "deferred" bonds of the Ph ladeiphia & Reading Railroad Co. for the sum of $1,000 each, and numbered $75 to $59 inclusive; 1714 to 1726 inclusive, and numbers 1733, 1734.

The men supposed to be the robbers are described as follows: One thought to be from 35 to 40 years of age, height 5 feet 11 inches, weight about 180, heavy black mustache and whiskers dyed; wore a black silk hat, dark chinchilla overcoat and dark pants. The other about 50 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches high, black derby hat, light spring overcoat, short gray beard, weight about 180 pounds.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

A Delegation to Leave for Washington to Press the Bill.

A meeting of the Mississippi River Improvement Association was held this morning to consider the question of presenting the bill for the appropriation of $8,000,000 an nually before Congress. News was re ceived that the bill known as the St. Louis bill would come up in the Sennate Committee within a few days, and it was therefore decided to send a delegation to Washington at once to push the bill. Weeb M. Samuel and M. J. Murphy agreed to leave on the evening train, and other members of the association will soon follow. A circular was issued setting forth the advantages of the proposed plan of river improvements, and sent to the different commercial bodies and newspapers in the States bordering the Mississippi. ceived that the bill known as the St. Louis

They made a thorough inspection of the plans and then went over the building accompanied by Mr. Jeffrey Walsh, one of Architect Mann's assistants. The gentlemen were quite impressed with the building and pronounced it the finest they had yet seen, with the exception of the City Hall in Philadelphia. On their present trip they have examined the Municipal Buildings in nine cities. After attending to their business they dropped down to the City Hall and called on the Mayor, whom they were all anxious, to see. They made a tour of the city this afternoon and will leave to-night.

Chief of Detectives Desmond received a strange letter to-day from Denny Tucker, an old-time St. Louis crook, who has joined the Salvation Army in California. Denny says

A delegation from the Common Council o the city of Boston arrived in the city last evening and called on the Mayor at noon today. The members of the committee are day. The members of the committee are Mr. David Barry, President of the Council, Messrs. Edward Farrell and Thomas Taibot. They are accompanied by Mathew Sullivan, Assistant City Architect, John Z. Bromley. Clerk of Committees, Chas. E. Seilaway, Deputy City Messenger, and David J. McGrath, representing the Boston city press. The gentlemen had evidently gotten some tips on St. Louis hospitality from the former Boston delegation and were not on the lookout for civilities. They came to inspect the plans and construction of the new City Hall as the city of Boston is considering the expediency of extending their present hall or erecting a new building. The gentlemen started out on their own hook

An adjourned meeting of the residents and property owners in the Tower Grove section of the city was held last evening in Tower in that section have languished for a long time, nothing whatever having been done during the past five or six years, and the present condition of the side-walks, crossings and thoroughfares has stirred up the people. To give the movement shape and force an organization was perfected under the name of the Tower Grove Improvement Association, with Frank Stilwell as President; F. M. Walsh, Vice-President, and Walter Gray, Secretary.

Councilman Anderson, who was invited to attend, was prevented on account of the Council meeting, but sent a very warm letter of indorsement, which was read before the association. He offered his assistance in any measure that had for its object the improvement of that section of the city, and promised to urge the matter in his official capacity.

The association starts out with a large membership and a determination to push its claims atthe City Hali. in that section have languished

Salvation Army in California. Denny says that after serving the devil for thirty years, he was converted nineteen months ago, and now he is engaged in the work of the Lord in the streets of San Francisco. Tucker displayed in his letter a regard for Chiefs Desmond and Harrigan, such as could hardly be expected of an ex-criminal. He calls down the blessings of heaven on those two enemies of the crooks. Desmond said that Tucker was one of the worst criminals in St. Louis twenty years ago. He was barkeeper at the Dew Drop, then the worst den in the city. He also served several terms in the penitentiary.

A large crowd gathered at the rooms of the omce Men's Club last evening to witness the mock trial of three members for insubordination. Music and song were prominent parts of the testimony. Officers for the ensuing year will be nominated next Tuesday evening. The election will occur April 12.

was very reticent about his affairs, and told little more than his name.

On Feb. 28 William Black came to the hospital, saying he was sick, and made arrangements to stay there. It was found that he was suffering from pneumonia and in spite of all that could be done he died on the six hot this month. He said he came from Chicago and had relatives there, but did not say where they lived or what their names were. When the putient died the police of Chicago were telegraphed and requested to hunt up some of Black's relatives.

A telegram was received here, signed Archie ponidson, instructing the hospital to motify the relations of the dead man at No. 849 Wabash avenue. A telegram was sent there is no 849 Wabash avenue and consequently can go no further.

The Chicago police authorities claim that there is no 849 Wabash avenue and consequently can go no further.

The Superintendent of the Hospital said this morning that very little satisfaction had resulted from the Chicago telegram, as nobody had as yet turned up to claim the remains or give any instructions as to how to dispose of them. The Archie Donaidson who telegraphed the Wabash avenue address is not known to the bospital; as it is impossible to wait any longer for relatives to turn up.

THE UNIVERSITY QUESTION.

The House vote of 69 for Sedalia and 67 for Columbia shows a very small margin of preference for Sedalia-a margin which may be reversed in the Senate. But even if there is a small majority for Sedalia in the Senate also, the Governor's veto will probably knock out the removal project even at the risk of putting the Legislature in a bad humor for voting the needed rebuilding appropriation.

It seems to us that if the university to be removed at all, it should be removed only on a proposition commanding enough support to over-ride the Governor's veto. The proposition should be so clearly advantageous to the university and to the State as to command the approval of a large majority, at least, in both houses. A narrow margin of only two votes in favor of removal-supposably due to mere local favoritism for Sedalia as against Columbia-would make the former's tenure of the prize very frail indeed.

It would show that she got it by " scratch," by a proposition which nearly half the members considered less accentable then Columbia's hid. This would be equivalent to a notice to all the ambitious owns in the State that any one of them could at any time wrest the university from Sedalia by outbidding her ever so

Now it would do Sedalia no good to get the prize on any such terms, and we do not see how the Legislature can benefit the university by putting it on wheels, to be hawked about the State periodically for lease to whatever town may bid a few dollars more than any other for temporary ossession of it.

We still believe that the removal of the iniversity is simply a question of public policy and expediency for the legislative authority to decide. But the consider ations and inducements should be so commanding as to put a close vote out of the question and to insure the permanency of the new location.

If our tariff and navigation laws have "little or nothing to do with it " why do Americans have to hoist foreign flags on foreign-built ships instead of sailing them under their own flag? That flag would confer privileges and advantages now denied to Amercan owners and increase profits already sufficient to attract American capital to

The resolution is: Whereas, it has come to the notice of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union that there are in existence in the city certain fleeters and concert halls known as the London on Fourth street; the Crystal Palace, Seventh and Elm: Frank & Bryants, Sixth and Spruce; Thompson's, Sixth and Elm; Escher's on St. Charles street, Hugo Zeller's on Sixth street and the Winter Garden, in which women and rirls are employed as dancers, nusical performers and sellers of liquor in connection with the regular business of the saloon, all in violatin of sec. 3806, art. 6, chap. 47, p. 910, vol. 1, Revised Statutes of the State of Missouri, 1889,

Therefore, be it resolved, That we pray your honorablehody, the Grand-jury, to fully investigate this terrible evil in the cases above mentioned, and to use the rights in your power to suppress the same.

The law alluded to in the resolution provides that no owner or keeper of a place where liquor is sold shall employ women or girls as waiters, or to sing or dance, under penalty of fine and imprisonment.

"We can do no more than to show the Grand-jury that the law is being violated in certain places." said Mrs. Ingalls. "It is well known that women sing and dance in these halls and help to sell liquor. We are protesting in the name of the women of our city, and we hope the Grand-jury will take vigorous measures to stop the practice."

THE ANDERSON BILL.

Collector Ziegenhein was in rapture when he stood up on the Council floor yesterday to oppose the Anderson dramshop bill, which takes the power of issuing licenses out of his hands and gives it to the Police Board. On one side were the Saloon-keepers' Committee, who had been sent up to the City Hall by the Liquor Dealers' Protective Association to beat the bill. President H. J. Hinsman of the State Organization, P. J. Carmody, Capt. John W. Howard and Michael O'Mailey, the master of Union Market. On the other side, in the lobby seats were Mrs. F. H. Ingalls, President of the State W. C. T. U.; Mrs. E. P. Johnson, the noted leader of charitable work and a score of other ladies of the association. Before him were the three sympathetic members of the Police Committee, Councilmen John C. Bensieck, Andrew F. Hoolan and Charles E. Wehner. Behind him, in the members' chairs, sat Councilmen W. T. Anderson and Albert Arnstein, and can use their money to better advantage than is offered in this line of activity. Just before the ladies of the W. C. T. U. came in Councilmen Anderson and Bensleck had a sharp passage-at-arms. 'I want you to treat this bill squarely,' said Anderson, 'and report it, for or against, at once. If you are friends of Ziegenhein that's the propert hing to do."

THE WOMEN FOR IT.

Johnson and Mrs. Ingalls spoke. They both said that the bill would help to close the low dives of the city where women were employed. Mrs. Johnson said that under the present system the majority of citizens on a block had absolutely no power to keep out a saloon when somebody wanted to open one. They were followed by Dr. James L. Day, who gave instances where the present law had allowed the Collector to impose saloons on a block when many more than a majority of the citizens had objected.

Under all this fire the Collector sat smiling, now and then exchanging glances with the Saloon Committee. President Hinsman, Capt. Carmody and Capt. Howard then spoke JUDGE MORRIS SAYS THEY CANNOT RUN THEIR HALL WITHOUT A LICENSE.

August, Louis and Henry Beckman wer tried in the First District Police Court to-day on a charge of running a theater at 16 South Broadway without a license and were fined $100. The case had been continued several times, but at the last continuance Judge tolerated, and so when

He testified that the defendants ran a concert hall in connection with their saloon on South Broadway, and that although they charged no admission fee, the patrons were expected to patronize the bar. The entertainments consisted of music and dancing and took place in the afternoons as well as evenings, regular matinees being held daily. While the spectators and auditors were not required to patronize the bar, they were expected to do so.

"Now, does any one suppose," asked the court, "that these men are running that concert hall for the public good or for charity or for anyone's benefit and gain except their own? Now, if it is run for gain, they ought to pay a licease and they must pay a licease."

Mr. McNamara read from an old ordinance and tried to convince the Judge that the legal definition of an entertainment for gain was an entertainment to which admission legal definition of an entertainment for gain was an entertainment to which admission was charged, but the court would not accept the definition, and stopped further proceedings by imposing a fine of $100 on the proprietors of the place. The Beckmans took an appeal and gave bond in the sum of $300, with Henry Nicolaus as security.

The Police Board passed on a new petition of the Beckmans yesterday for a license for their concert hall and decided on the report made by Capt. Young that the petition did not have the requisite number of signatures, and to-day Collector Ziegenhein was notified of the action of the board. This makes three petitions for a license which the Beckmans have presented to the Collector and which the latter has referred to the Police Board, and the action of the board in each case has been the same. Each of the petitions has been refused, but the concert hall has been kept open all the time just as if the license had been granted.

The Mischievous Struggle Over the Loca-

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch The proposition to remove the University from Columbia was not before the people, when the present Legislature was elected. It was not even dreamed of by the public. The vote of the members is therefore their individual opinion, and not representa-tive of popular sentiment. The capital and the University are the two most prominent landmarks of the State. The one is on the south and the other on the north side of the great river that divides the State in twain. The north side has the majority in wealth and population and it will not be content with both of these institutions located on the south side and both United States Senators thrown in to all the railroad facilities that the university needs. Is it desirable to expose the flery youths of the State to the influences of a rail-through it and in a few months it will have all the railroad facilities that the university needs. Is it desirable to expose the flery youths of the State to the influences of a railroad center?

Sedalla seems determined to have something. It is ambitious and covetous. For years it claimed the Capital, but what did it all amount to? Thousands of Missourians have been educated at Columbia. They form perhaps the larger part of the active and controlling men of the State at this time. They will stand by their Aima Mater. At least they ought in all fairness to be given an opportunity to be heard from. They know a great deal more of the subject matter than men here, many of whom have never been to Columbia.

There was a great contest over the location of the University fifty years ago. Columbia won on a fair issue. The State accepted the bonus given by its citizens and is in all honor bound to keep the bargain in good faith. The bonus offered now by other places should cut no figure whatever in the question. To remove the University is to put it on wheels. It would be located on an uneasy foundation at Sedalia. Columbia would have a moral right to fight against it forever until if was put back again, and the Bonstick country is no insignificant factor in Missouri politics. Every attempt hereafter to aid it or build it up at Sedalia would be met with violent local opposition.

Reminiscences grow up around universities and churches. What Englishman would listen to a proposal to remove Oxford? How many votes would a proposal to remove Heldelberg, Yale, Harvard or the University of Virginia receive? The university at Columbia is practically coval with the State, and there it should remain. The question of bonuses and dollars and cents is contemptible compared with the broad underlying sentiment of the main body of the people of the State that their one great seat of learning is permanent. The people of Boone County and of Columbia are as good as those of Sedalia and Pettis County. The one will treat the university about Another report circulated quite generally at the Council meeting last evening was that the new compine were going to report all of the Mayor's nominations to the Council for action. Suspended from the chandeliers and hung against the walls were vases containing rare orchids in full bloom. The reception rooms were transformed into bowers of exquisite beauty and one could almost imagine himself in the midst of June from the quantities of beautiful roses which ornamented the apartments. The center of the room was decorated by a large pyramid formed of growing paims and white caila lilies. The recesses were ornamented with hanging baskets of growing vines, and the mantels and grates were banked with a profusion of Marechal Nell, jack roses, American beauties, Duchesse of Albany and other rare roses, against a background of smilax. The center table was ornamented with a lovely rustic basket filled with rare roses and each one of the ladies employed about the large establishment won a bouquet of rose buds. The hats were found in every style and shape and many new effects are shown in trimmings this year.

MOUNT AUBURX.

The Hammett-Anderson-Wade Real Estate Co. report the sale of 60x120 feet of ground at the northwest corner of North Market street and DeHodiament avenue at $22 a foot to George P. Nichail. This lot is in the Mount Auburn tract, opposite the new Methodist Church, the price paid for it being, with one exception, the highest figure paid for ground on any of the back streets in that subdivision where ground sold low as $10 a foot at auction last summer. Mr. Anderson says there is going to be a good deal of building in that subdivision this spring, and soon as these improvements are well under way prices will advance rapidly.

C. R. H. Davis & Co. sold a lot of 45x150 feet on the south line of Morgan street, 100 feet east of Pendieton avenue, for $70 per foot, from Frank W. Terpening and Charles H. Goodman to C. R. H. Davis, who will erect a $10,000-house on the site.

A GENERAL SHAKING UP.

His Assistant Chiefs.

A rumor has been current for some days that Fire Chief John Lindsay intended to make changes in the location of his six assistants. The rumor, of course, carried with it the inference that the change was due assistants. The rumor, of course, carried with it the inference that the change was due to the little jars in the service growing out of the Council combine's long fight in behalf of Chief Lindsay against some of his assistants. The chief was asked to-day what changes he was going to make and the cause of them. He acknowledged that a shaking up among the assistants was among his designs. He would not say who would be removed, because, he said, he had not completed his plans. He stated that the transfers would be for the good of the service and his sole motive in making them is his desire to give better protection to the business part of the city. He will therefore station an assistant chief at No. 23's on Third, near Vine street. This house heretofore has not had that honor, and the Chief says that it will take a little time to fix up a place for the assistant. He stated that the sman who will be moved to the 23's will come from one of the four assistants now in the North, West, South and Southwest Ends. They are respectively Rucker at 19's, Hester at 17's, Fath at 3's and Barry at 7's. When the removal to 23's is made, the three assistants remaining will be gerrymandered so as to cover in the most efficient manner the territory at present guarded by four assistants. The Chief refused to say which of these men would be transferred, but from the pian outlined it appears that each of the four will go to enew quarters. Chief Lindsay denied that there were any political or personal motives back of the changes.

I want to say a few words to you about Shirts and Shirt making. There are a great many men who never have a shirt to fit or please them although they have them made to order and pay a top price. There are several reasons why they are not suited, but it may be unkind in me to give them. I will say this, however, that if you want a shirt made to your measure that will fit you, and please you, and make you comfortable. I will make it for you, provided you do not give me too many instructions as to how a shirt should be made, but give me the order to make it and you the right to reject it, provided it does not suit you. Remember I make nothing but the best and highest class shirts, and you take no risk of getting Shirts which do not pleaseyou, as I will try them on and fit you in my store as a tailor does a

DRESSED BEEF COMBINE

Mysterious Clearing-House Run by Allerton's Private Secretary. CHICAGO, Ill., March 16 .- The mysterior William M. White, who has been running the clearing-house of the big dressed meat com bine, turns out to be S. W. Alierton's private Secretary. The fact is that, although Mr. Allerton is not now a member of the combine, he managed to break into it several years ago and compelled the other members to buy him out. They did so. He knew too much. Although Mr. Allerton got out of the cattle business his private secretary, who has acted in that capacity for twenty years, has managed affairs for the trust ever since. When Allerton was asked yesterday about the connection of his private secretary with the Montauk Block Clearing house he professed ignorance of the workings of the meat combine.

lessed ignorance of the workings of the meat combine. "Why, William never tells me anything about his business," said Mr. Allerton. "If he should I would discharge him, for I would consider that he was unworthy of my confidence. He has not told me anything about his connection with Armour and the others, so I cannot give you any information about what you are pleased to term the clearinghouse in the Montauk block."

When Mr. Allerton was asked if it was not a fact that the Big Three and two other leading oleomargarine houses in Chicago were using the Montauk block office as a clearing-house in a manner similar to that employed by the meat combine, he disclaimed all knowledge of it.

Chief Desmond said, this morning: "We are trying every means we know to locate the man and get some clew to where he is or has been. All the hotels and resorts have been visited, the railroad depots watched and everything possible done. We are waiting for some advice from Sedalia as to the man's acquaintances here."

The search will be continued until something definite is learned.

A Plain Precaution.

Either to adopt a plain precaution, one sanctioned by experience and approved by medical men,or to incur the risk of a malady obdurate and destructive in its various forms of intermittent or bilious remittent fever, or dumb ague, which of the two? For every type, for every phase of malaria, Hostetter's stomach Bitters is a specific. It acts promptly—does its work thoroughly. As a defense against the malarial taint it is most effective. Emigrants to and denizens of regions in the West where miasmatic complaints are periodical visitants, should be mindful of this and use the Bitters as a safeguard. For constipation, biliousness, rheumatism, "la grippe," kidney and bladder troubles the Bitters will be found no less useful than in cases of malaria. SPORTING NEWS.

As was announced in yesterday's Post DISPATCH James J. Corbett covered the for-NOW -: OPEN. feit of $2,500 which John John L. Sullivan had posted with the New York World to bind a fight for the world's championship. News also comes from New Orleans that President demand in their articles of agreement. These articles, which were signed yesterday by Jimmy Wakely for Sullivan and by Corbett for himself, state that the match is to be for the world's championship, a stake of $20,000 and a purse of $25,000, and that the contest is to come off before the Olympic Club of New Orleans on Wednesday, Sept. 7, 1892, in case that organization gives the purse demanded, otherwise the men were to fight before some club to be mutually agreed upon. The sporting editor, first parameters and the sporting editor. mutually agreed upon. The sporting editor of the New York World is to be temporary

There is one feature of the articles to which no attention has been called in the telegrams from New York, and that is that the stipula sisted that either the full $10,000 aside be deposited immediately, or that the first deposit $0,500 be made immediately, the second deposit of the same amount within thirty days by the third deposit of $2,500 by May 1, and the final deposit of the same amount by June 1. The articles call for four deposits of $2,500 each, as he stipulates, and the first deposit has been made as Sullivan demanded. The has been made as Sullivan demanded. The second deposit, however, does not have to be made until June 1, the date the champion named for the final deposit, the third on July 10 and the final deposit on Aug. 25. It will thus be seen that no more money has to ce put up for two and a half months yet. In the meantime both men will be reaping the benefit of the advertisement by the match in their theatrical ventures. yet. In the meantime both men will be reaping the benefit of the advertisement by the match in their theatrical ventures. Corbett and his manager will unquestionably reapmore than $2,500 in that time out of the advertisement of the Californian being matched to meet Sullivan. In fact, it should make a difference of more than double that amount in their gate receipts, for everybody will want to see the man who is to go against Sullivan. The champion, speaking of Corbett, says: "I will not be satisfied he is in earnest until he jumps into the ring with me. He has taken only the preliminary steps, and there are more than forty ways of creeping out of the fight." The provisions for making deposits of the stake give the Californian excellent opportunities for "creeping out of the fight." It hes odesires, for before June 1 he could make enough for himself and manager in a theatrical way with this match as an advertisement to easily afford to lose the $2,500 they have deposited and still be away ahead. Corbett could get sick and call off the fight, refusing to make any other deposits as he feared he would not be able to train for the match. It is not intended to claim that Corbett will do this, but the point is mentioned to show how easily he could get out of the match without financial loss, but in fact with profit, should hee feel so disposed. Under Sullivan's stipulations about deposits in his nitimatum such a thing was not possible as he demanded the payments to be made at such brief intervals. Corbett, however, is entitled to be considered in earnest in making the match unless he does something to prove otherwise. Should he do soft will be time enough then to criticise him. Sullivan did not think Mitchell would fight him when they were matched in England, and it was the general belief on this side of the water that the Englishman would never enter the ring, but never theess he did and fought the champion a draw.

The East St. Louis Jockey Club held meeting yesterday, and decided to close their winter meeting April 29, so as not to conflict with the regular spring meeting of the St. Louis Jockey Club, which opens the following day, April 30, and runs continuously a wise one on the part of President Wells. The news that there will be no clashes of dates between the two racing organizations will be satisfactory news to st. Louis turf patrons, who feared that there would be a clash, and felt that such an event could not but result
